OPEN MOBILITY FOUNDATION

The Open Mobility Foundation is a trusted nonprofit organization that brings together cities, technology companies, and the public to develop open-source standards that help manage mobility and public space for the public good.

We are governed by public agency leaders from around that world who are united in finding digital solutions to transportation challenges. Joined by experts, advocates, and other stakeholders, the OMF's leaders work collaboratively — incorporating viewpoints and expertise from key groups and communities — to develop open-source urban mobility tools.

WHY INVEST

The Open Mobility Foundation prepares cities for the digital infrastructure transformation road ahead. The data specifications we steward align mobility data between cities and mobility tech companies and provide a single reporting standard, eliminating the need for redundant data formatting and processing. This can help organizations scale more quickly by offering a uniform platform and best practices that can more easily be introduced to new city markets.
